

DROMORE DIOCESAN HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Monday 25th May 2015

On this outing, we meet firstly at 6.45pm at Ballyholland Mass-Rock, a revered and elevated Penal Era site, just under two miles east of Newry, where the address will be given by Fr Andrew McMahon.

We then drive through country lanes to the raised enclosure that holds the three Grinan Crosses located on the Greenan Lough Road, two and a half miles south of Ballyholland. Here the address will be given, and the outing conducted, by Betty Hughes, the guardian of this ancient site and the three crosses within, one of which is known to be among the oldest High Crosses in Ireland.

Strong footwear is advised, and there is careful walking involved. Highly recommended.
